When you hear hoof-beats (symptoms),
Think horses (common diseases),
Not zebras (unusual diseases).
Now hoof-beats may not be as clearly identified
We must learn to recognize, control, and tame bioterrorism agents and their diseases.
Santa Clara County
Zebra Packet

- Designed for clinicians and epidemiologists
- Describes signs, symptoms, diagnosis, and treatment for bioterrorism agents
- Applied idea to working with bio-agents in the field
Materials

Taming the Wild Zebra
Responding to Bioterrorism

California Department of Public Health: Microbial Diseases Laboratory
V 1.2

Joint Agency Response to Bioterrorism

Instructor Workbook
Version 1.3
July 2007
Field Screening Side

Training Field Kits